An Integrative
Feeding
Conference for Kids on the Spectrum

Presented by
Lauren's Institute for Education

WHAT YOU WILL LEARN

- You will be given an integrative discussion of feeding disorders, the swallowing process, and the rationale behind our children's refusal to eat. We will provide realistic medical solutions and recommendations for feeding children with autism.

- You will be given practical advice from a parent perspective on how to bridge the gap between traditional therapies and the biomedical approach.

- You will be given practical and playful interventions to encourage children to eat food, swallow pills and drink supplements safely and consistently.

-You will be given beneficial techniques for positioning children in order to best support a positive feeding experience.

-You will be given information on co-treatment approaches that can help our children reach goals faster, acquire additional skills, and increase motivation.
